JOHN WITTMAN THE TAILOR

NEGRESS IS LYNCHED

Steenie Steer Suffers Death at the Hands of a Mob.

POISONS YOUNG LADY

Charged With Putting Deadly Drug in a Glass of Lemonade and Miss Lizzie Dolan, a Beautiful Girl, Expired in Agony.

New Orleans, July 27.—A special to the Picayune from Shreveport says: News reached Shreveport that the negress, Steenie Steer, who administered poison in a glass of lemonade to Lizzie Dolan, the sixteen-year-old daughter of John Dolan, from the effects of which she died, was lynched by an infuriated mob about sundown Saturday night. The lynching occurred on the Bear plantation near the spot where the woman's crime was committed. Steenie Steer, was stubborn to the last, denying her crime, but the proof against her was direct and conclusive and precluded the possibility of her innocence.

It is claimed that the negress fled from the Dolan household as soon as she discovered that her crime was known. She was pursued by a posse, who found her crouching in a hay loft. She refused to come out and had to be dragged from the place. Asked why she poisoned Miss Dolan the negress indignantly denied the commission of the crime. She was taken to the Dolan homestead and fully identified as the woman who placed the poison in the lemonade.

The mob then took her to a nearby tree, placed a rope around her neck and again asked her to confess. She was stubborn to the last and was strung up without making admissions. While the body was dangling in mid-air several shots were fired into it.

The poisoning of Miss Dolan created intense excitement in the neighborhood of the crime. The victim of poison was a beautiful young girl, who was not known to have an enemy in the world. She died in horrible agony, a fact which accentuated the rage of the mob. The funeral of Miss Dolan occurred Sunday morning and it was attended by persons for miles around.

There is a growing suspicion that this negress was connected with the murder of Mrs. Frank Matthews, whose horrible death startled the people of this, several months ago.

HANGED AND BURNED.

Effort to Lynch Another Negro Causes Excitement at Danville.

Danville, Ill., July 27.—A mob Saturday night endeavored to take James Wilson, colored, who confessed to a brutal assault on Mrs. Thomas Burgess at Alva, north of here. While passing along Main street the mob became involved in an altercation with another negro, J. O. Mayfield. The negro shot at them. Henry Hattermann was shot and soon died. The negro was strung up to a telephone pole, and his body afterward burned. The mob then charged the jail. The sheriff and his deputies fired, wounding several. There were many women in the mob. One of them mounted a large box in the middle of the square and shouted: "Kill the sheriff. He has shot more than one white man on account of the negro." About half of Company K, a negro organization, barricaded themselves in the armory, anticipating an attack from the mob.

RESULT OF RIOT.

Two Killed and Twenty-Two Wounded at Danville, Ill.

Danville, Ill., July 27.—Two killed and twenty-two wounded, the police station wrecked, the county jail with a few of its windows left unshattered, the city in the hands of the state troops and a feeling of uneasiness and dread prevailing here is the situation from the race riots Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Memphis, July 27.—A special to the Commercial-Appeal from Gallatin says that as the sequel of a row at a dance in Mason county, Jim Futs shot and killed Dick Mason, Tom Fields and Clay Howse and dangerously wounded Mike Johnson. Futs was also severely cut, and a young lady received a knife wound in an arm.

PUT IN THREE COFFINS

Temporary Interment of the Body of Late Pope Leo.

WAS HELD SATURDAY

The Remains Will Remain in Niche One Year, Final Interment to Be in the Church of St. John Laterane.

Rome, July 27.—The body of Pope Leo XIII. was interred Saturday night in its temporary resting place in the niche over the door to the left of the Chapel of the Sacrament. The ceremony began at 7 o'clock, the Vatican prelates conducting the services. It was first intended to send out only 700 invitations, but at the last moment they were increased to 4000.

The body was raised on a bier and carried upon the shoulders of the men who had so often borne the pontiff during his lifetime, and was carried into the chapel of St. Peter's, the remains not being placed in the coffin until the chapel was reached.

The procession was led by the monks of St. Peter's, all chanting the Miserere, and passed before the chapel of St. Peter's, finally ending at the choir chapel. There the chant was changed to "In Paradisium." A few drops of holy water were sprinkled over the coffin and the last absolution was pronounced.

In the coffin was placed the pontifical ornaments, including all the medals the pope had received during his reign, and a scroll, telling of the principal acts of Leo's pontificate were laid at his feet. The face and hands were then reverently covered with a thin white veil, the coffin was placed in another of lead, and that in turn was placed in one of elm wood, covered with scarlet brocade. Both were hermetically sealed and raised to the niche over the door during the recitation of the final benediction.

The body will remain in this niche for one year, when it will be transferred to its final resting place in the church of St. John Laterane.

READ THE WILL.

As Before Stated, It Is Bequeathed to the Three Nephews.

Rome, July 27.—Several thousand of the faithful crowded St. Peter's Sunday to pay tribute before the sarcophagus containing the remains of the late pope, on which is the following simple inscription in gilded letters: "Leo XIII., Pont Max."

Meanwhile requiem masses continued in the Chapel of the Sacrament as well as many other Roman churches. The will of Leo was read. While nominally leaving the estate of Carpine to his nephew, Ludovic Pecci, it really makes no change, as the whole family property, amounting approximately to $120,000, had already been divided among the three nephews, Count Camillo having already sold his share.

The congregation again made further progress with the arrangements for the conclave. Cardinal Gibbons arrived, but did not attend the meeting. A wall is being built around the apartments where the conclave will be held. It is already ten feet high.

Some of the Italian bookmakers here propose to conduct public betting on the chances of the papal candidates, and in order to obtain permission to do so offered to donate their gains to charitable institutions. The government, however, promptly refused the request.

MOST SHOCKING.

Thirty-Three Girls Burn In a Barn That Was Set on Fire.

Vienna, July 27.—De Zeil reports one of the most shocking catastrophes ever known in these parts. According to the paper, a number of laborers attacked a number of young women employed on the same farm and the bailiff had to be called upon. He locked the girls, thirty-three in number, in the barn in order to protect them from the men. This, however, only seemed to enrage the laborers and they set fire to the barn and all of the girls perished in the flames.

Death of a Congressman.

Philadelphia, July 27.—Congressman Robert H. Foerderer of the Fourth district died at his home in Torresdale Sunday. He had been ill for some time. He was a large manufacturer of leather and was president of the Keystone Telephone company of Philadelphia.

The Carnegie library is a mark of enterprise and progressiveness which strangers do not fail to note.

The Central Texas fair this year will come nearer realizing the purpose for which it was organized than ever before. The farmers are becoming interested in it.

The county convicts have been placed on the Madisonville road with orders to stay until it is put in first-class shape. That's the way Bryan provides for her patrons in this and adjoining counties.

The Business League is in need of taking pointers from the Brazos County Farmers' Institute. The latter seems to us to be about the liveliest organization in the county.

The oil company prospectors are still at work here and are putting down a hole on their land in the bottom and having the dirt therefrom passed on at a laboratory by an expert, and will thoroughly test formation of the earth before any active work is begun in any line.—Caldwell New-Chronicle.

It is said that a sucker is born every minute and Farm and Ranch has ceased doubting it since it learned that one man gave a good house and lot for a recipe for making two pounds of butter (?) out of one, and that many others are paying from five dollars up for similar recipes. Even the fool killer is neglecting his work during the hot summer time.—Farm and Ranch.

IS LIKE AN ANT HILL.

Everything Astir at Vatican Preparing For Conclave.

PREPARING OF ROOMS

The Advisability of Sending a Note to the Powers Protesting Against Further Occupation of Papal Territory Came Up.

Rome, July 27.—The Vatican resembles an ant hill, so feverish is the work of preparing that part of the building set aside for the conclave. Before 1870 conclaves were held in Quirinal palace, one of the long wings, which is always ready with any special preparation, but in the case of the Vatican apartments three or four rooms for each cardinal will be specially prepared, and as there are sixty-four cardinals the amount of work involved is great. The section destined for the conclave comprises on the ground floor of the Vatican three suites of room which surround the famous court of San Damase, rooms under the late pope's apartments, and the rooms about the Sala Ducale. On the second floor rooms about the Loggia Raphael and pontifical offices, comprising all the apartments formerly occupied by Cardinal Rampolla, who left the Vatican altogether, will be used. The whole will furnish a commodious lodging for about 500 persons. Sistine chapel, as in the case of the last conclave, will be used for meetings of cardinals and balloting. There will be erected a throne for each cardinal. The thrones will be baldacchinos or canopies attached to the wall behind. The moment the new pope is elected he will lower his baldacchino as a token of his new dignity, thus silently announced. The Palatine chapel will be used for the celebration of high mass every morning of the conclave, while in the Sala Ducale will be movable altars for masses to be celebrated every morning by each cardinal. Gendarmes and Palatine Guards will be transferred to the building in the Belvidere courtyard, where poor pilgrims lodged during the last jubilee. Gendarmes' barracks are being transformed into kitchens, pantries, etc. The Belvidere courtyard will be converted into general quarters for carpenters and other workmen. The court is quite unrecognizable. There are long lines of glass windows. The Loggia Raphael has been painted up to a certain height as a precaution and shades have been put up on every window, the better to insure secrecy. Assurances have been given that everything will be in readiness for Friday night, but there is much yet to be accomplished.

Cardinals at their meeting Monday night again discussed the advisability of sending a note to the powers regarding the condition of the holy see. Some of them insisted on the necessity of not allowing the occasion to pass without again protesting against pontifical territory being occupied by Italy, showing the papacy is determined to maintain its claims unabated. Others said they thought that such a note would not add any force to many protests of the same kind already made, while it might interfere with the policy which the future pope may desire to follow, and added the best thing to do was to leave to the successor of Leo XIII. to choose the course which he may consider best for the general interests of the church. No decision was arrived at. If the cardinals determine to send a note it will probably be delivered to the diplomatic body on Thursday.

ANOTHER FAILURE.

Hooley & Co. of New York Were So Announced Monday Morning.

New York, July 28.—The failure of E. S. Hooley & Co. was announced on the stock exchange. The firm is heavily interested in Evansville and Terre Haute. The firm includes besides Mr. Hooley, Frank Brumley and Robert H. Heinsheimer. Hooley & Co. were specially prominent brokers in the days of Roswell H. Flower in the bull campaign. Hooley & Co. were specialists in Evansville and Terre Haute and DesMoines and Fort Dodge securities. In stock exchange circles Hooley & Co.'s suspension caused little surprise. In some quarters, in fact, the announcement has been discounted. The market opened irregular and fractionally lower. It rallied just before the Hooley failure was announced, after which it declined slightly and then rallied again. The stock of the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad company sold at $40 a share. Last week it sold as high as $60.

Nothing to Say.

New York, July 27.—Members of the firm of Ed S. Hooley & Co. had no statement to make up to 11 o'clock Monday. The general belief is that the failure is due largely to the heavy drop in prices of Des Moines and Fort Dodge and Evansville and Terre Haute stocks on Saturday. It is authoritatively stated that W. L. Stow & Co. had no interest in Evansville and Terre Haute securities, of which company Edwin S. Hooley is president, and in which his firm is understood to have been largely interested. Last year Mr. Hooley and Mr. Stow bought control of Des Moines and Fort Dodge property and at the annual meeting a year ago elected three directors representing their interests, and at the annual meeting this year elected three more. The lease under which the Rock Island operates the property is still in force.

Bassett & Co. Go Under.

New York, July 27.—The failure of William aBssett & Co., members of the Boston and New York stock exchanges, is announced. The firm had practically no contracts outstanding on the New York exchange.

Transferred to General Ware.

Manila, July 27.—Major General Davis has transferred the command of the department of the Philippines to Major General James F. Ware, General Davis having been retired for age.

GIBBONS ATTEN

American Cardinal Takes the Oath and Visits St. Peter's.

Rome, July 27.—Not many people assisted in the fifth novem diales, which were celebrated in the chapel choir at St. Peter's, Mgr. Constantini, papal almoner, pontificating. Attention was centered in the solemn funeral mass at the Church of St. John Lateran, where the Pecci family, diplomatic body, Knights of Malta and Roman aristocracy were present.

Cardinal Gibbons participated in the meeting of congregation of cardinals. He was most cordially received by all his colleagues and the members of the sacred college, apopinted at last consistory, were presented to him. Cardinal Gibbons then took the oath on the gospel, administered by Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college,, to maintain strict secrecy on all questions discussed at the meeting of the congregation, to defend the rights, prerogativs and temporal claims of the church, uques ad effusionem sangs inis, adhering to all protests formulated by the late pontiff against the occupation of the pontifical states and against laws passed to the detriment of the church and apostolic see. Cardinal Gibbons then went to St. Peter's and knelt before the resting place of the body of Pope Leo and prayed for about fifteen minutes. Cardinal Gibbons has appointed Father Gaven as his conclavist, beside whom he will take only one servant into the conclave.

Convicted of Lunacy.

Austin, July 27.—Jesse Lanier, three years an inmate of the Confederate home, was convicted of lunacy. He complained of being mistreated at the home. The testimony adduced showed his mind to be unbalanced. Lanier said he had written letters to Governors Sayers, Hogg and Lanham, complaining.

Nearly all the sheriff's force and county constabulary are searching for the prisoners, who secured a number of rifles from the prison armory before they left.

FORTUNATE FALL.

Demented Lady Dropped Three Stories and Her Reason Restored.

New York, July 27.—Ten days ago Mrs. Bridget Hurley of Bayonne, N. J., who was ill and demented, was leaning out of a window on the third floor of her home. She lost her balance and fell. It was thought by the hospital physicians that the shock would prove fatal. Now they have discovered it has restored her lost powers and it is believed she will recover from her physical injuries.

Successful Operation.

New York, July 27.—August Flaurand of this city, who had the vertebrae of his neck shattered while diving near City Island, has been subjected to a successful operation, in which pieces of the broken bone were replaced with silver. After Flaurand recovered from the operation his neck was put in a plaster cast and he is expected to recover. The broken bones were much splintered.

Lands Withdrawn.

San Francisco, July 27.—Preliminary to the impending consolidation of the land departments of the Central and Southern Pacific railroads, which event is to follow the approaching retirement of Jerome Madden, now the land agent of the Southern Pacific, President Harriman has ordered the withdrawal from sale of all Southern Pacific timber lands in Oregon and Washington and all Southern Pacific oil lands in California.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra Recipients of Great Applause.

Belfast, July 27.—The welcome extended to King Edward and Queen Alexandra at the capital of Ulster was marked by the same enthusiasm which has followed their progress through Ireland. The city was elaborately decorated, thronged with sightseers and the streets were lined with 10,000 troops, 2000 blue jackets and 5000 police. The lord mayor and corporation awaited their majesties at the railroad station and presented them with an address. Upward of fifty other addresses were presented on the same occasion. The king in reply said his highest ambition was to follow in the footsteps of his mother and make the well-being of his people, the prosperity of Ireland and the maintenance of peace with all nations his constant aim. The royal processsion was then formed and traversed the streets to the city hall, where the king unveiled a staue erected in honor of Queen Victoria. The reception which their majesties met with everywhere was most enthusiastic.

SEVERAL DROWNED.

The Steamer Excelsior Brings News of Deaths in That Manner.

Seattle, Wash., July 27.—News comes from Valdes on the steamer Excelsior, which has arrived here, of the drowning of Miss Lou Wheeler, August Recehle and Henry and Paul Weidmer in the Nazine river and Burt Ford in the Copper at the mouth of the Chitina, one of its tributaries. J. Perry and Messrs. Barry and Russell, with a quartette, were drowned in the Nazine, all being in an open boat floating down the Nazine. As the boat neared a projecting reef the occupants attempted to get out and in doing so the canoe capsized. Ford and Dan Ferguson sarted on a raft down the Copper and while off the mouth of the Chitina the raft struck a rock and threw Ford into the river.

BOTH WERE DEAD.

Tragic Sight That Was Caused by Three Pistol Shots.

New York, July 27.—A well-dressed man, accompanied by a fine-looking and handsomely-gowned woman of about twenty-three years, registered at the Morton House as "C. Weise and wife, Syracuse, N. Y." Later in the afternoon the woman was heard shrieking, three shots followed instantly and when the room was entered she and the man were dead. The woman had a bullet in her heart. A pistol lay by the man's right hand and it is believed by the police that he shot the woman and then committed suicide. The coroner is convinced they came from Schenectady.

Three Were Killed.

St. Louis, July 27.—An accommodation train on the Vandalia railroad ran into a well-filled electric car near Lansdown, three miles north of here, killing three persons and injuring a score.

One Life Lost.

Alton, Ill., July 27.—Fire, believed to have been started by an incendiary, destroyed the Alton steam laundry, a row of flats, a barber shop and part of a lumber yard and resulted in the death of one person and injuries to six others.

The Early Circus.

Leaving out of count the great circuses of Rome and Antioch and coming down to something of modern times, the first circus in England was on a footpath known as Halfpenny Hatch, in the Waterloo road, London. There, in 1770, Astley's first performance was given, with the aid of a drum, two fifes and one clown. A charge of sixpence was made for the front standing places. There was no building and not even a tent, but merely a ring of ropes and stakes. Primitive as were the arrangements Astley soon attracted good audiences and was able to add to his programme conjuring, transparencies, vaulting and tumbling, with displays of fireworks. In course of time he was able to hire an inclosed ground and erected seats under a substantial roof. He called the place Astley's Amphitheater Riding house.
